You may be paying more for electrical costs than necessary!

The ARWA has a NEW program that offers an evaluation of your electrical costs through an electrical audit process.

You don't have to buy any new equipment or hire any additional employees. In most cases it can be done by modifying pump schedules and possibly other basic operational changes.

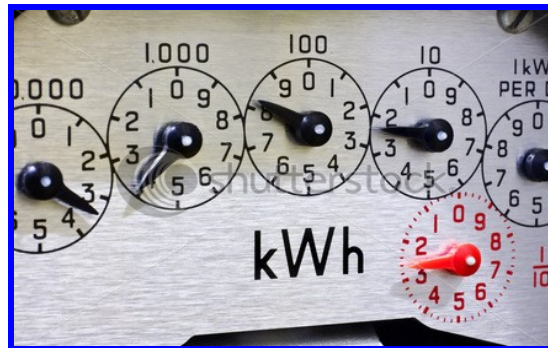

Better yet! It won't cost you a dime for us to determine if you are a candidate for potential savings through this exciting program.

Sound to good to be true?

We don't think so. In several water systems that we have worked with to test this program, we have had savings ranging from 10 to 20 percent of their electric bills. In actual dollars this has been a savings from $12,000 to $50,000 annually depending on the size of the system.

Are you interested?

If so, just complete the form on the reverse side indicating your interest and return to the ARWA.

We will then send you a brief form to complete requesting some basic information about your pumps and electric bill. At this point we will analyze the information. If our analysis indicates a significant savings potential, we will provide a projected savings amount and arrange for a visit to your system to conduct the electrical audit. There is no government program to finance this service for the ARWA so there will be an initial charge to conduct the audit. No additional charges will be added unless the opportunity for potential savings is confirmed. If so, the ARWA will monitor your savings for a period of time requesting only a small percentage of the overall savings for a period of one year.

Ready to get started?

We are! You have nothing to lose by indicating your interest. Complete the form on the reverse side and return to the ARWA. The dollars you save in electrical costs can help you meet budget deficits and build the reserve accounts necessary for operational needs or emergency situations. Contact us now for assistance!
